

Correct Placement of Auto Gas on Gas forklift

Please note that cylinders must always be stored and transported in an upright position as shown:

However, once the cylinder is placed on the back of a Fork Truck, it is essential that the bottle is rotated until the arrows on the side are facing vertically upwards – as shown below:

This will ensure that the cylinder releases gas correctly and will allow the bottle to empty completely .